Schoolcraft College International Institute

Students and other learners in the 21st century need to understand the global forces shaping their lives and the lives of people worldwide. They need to be exposed to a variety of cultures, and to understand how key issues and endeavors are affected by the interdependence of all peoples and nations. Schoolcraft College considers such global literacy to be an integral part of everyone's education.

This broad need is addressed by the Schoolcraft College International Institute (SCII). Created in 1994 and funded by the college, SCII is a coalition of interested faculty from many disciplines, who working with students, staff and community members, help deepen the international perspective of Schoolcraft curricula and programming.

Since its inception, SCII has focused on:

- promoting cross-cultural learning activities both on- and off-campus
- internationalizing relevant courses
- initiating new courses and certification programs for students
- facilitating relevant faculty professional development opportunities.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Schoolcraft College International Institute is to coordinate cross-cultural learning opportunities for students, faculty, staff and the community.

The Institute strives to enhance the international content of coursework, programs, and other college activities so participants better appreciate both the diversities and commonalities among world cultures, and better understand the global forces shaping people's lives.
