Important Culinary Arts Information

About the Culinary Programs

- The programs are geared to students who want to become culinary professionals (chefs, cooks, restaurateurs).
- Students learn in our $27 million state of the art facility, the VisTaTech Center.
- Our culinary arts program has been identified by Business Week magazine as one of the finest programs in the nation.

What you can expect as a Culinary Arts Student

- Great Instruction – our faculty includes 4 Certified Master Chefs and several Certified Executive Chefs.
- Rotating Schedule – students must have flexibility and be prepared for long days.
- Hard work and studying – the program is not geared to students with only a casual interest in culinary arts.
- Structure similar to restaurants – students must be able and willing to perform manual labor and adhere to a chain of authority.

CAP 103

- A waitlist exists for the CAP 103 class. To register for CAP 103, you must apply to the College and obtain a student number, satisfy assessment and sanitation requirements, and meet with a counselor for assessment review.
- Students who have met all the requirements will receive an electronic permit when they meet with a counselor that will allow them to register to CAP 103. It is necessary to meet with a counselor prior to registration day to obtain a permit if you wish to register for CAP 103.
- On the first day of registration each semester, at 7:00 a.m., you can attempt to register for this course online or by phone if you have obtained a permit.
- The Office of Admissions will take the first 40 students and offer them a spot in the upcoming sections of CAP 103. Students who attempt to register after the 40th name is recorded will be asked to try again next semester.
