Dear Schoolcraft College
Community,

With the onset of autumn comes the start of the academic year, and we are excited to continue engaging and serving our amazing community of learners. This fall we are expanding programming in the Collaborative Learning Studio. If you haven't taken a class in this new space, which seats 58 and includes a high-definition multi-panel screen system, consider enrolling in "Paint Like Bob Ross". Join Ted Simpson, a certified Bob Ross instructor, as he leads you through the creation of a painting in a single session, complete with happy trees and fluffy clouds.

PPL remains committed to offering short-term professional skill courses, which serve as an entry point to explore or launch a new career as well as to retool and advance. Topics of interest include cybersecurity protection, Google workspace, digital sculpting, information technology, and more. We invite you to explore the full list of opportunities at schoolcraft.edu/ppl/career

We look forward to seeing you in your favorite classes, trying out a new activity, or expanding your professional skills! On behalf of the entire team, thank you for your continued interest, input, and support.

NOAH SALTER Coffee 101 Instructor

Noah Salter is an educator by profession. In 2016, he turned his hobby into a business with the help of his friend and now business partner, Bill. They both shared a passion for coffee and wanted to share their love of the drink with others. After buying a small coffee roaster, some books about coffee roasting, and coffee beans, they jumped right into roasting. Through online education and trial and error, they learned enough to begin selling coffee at the Plymouth Farmers Market as Gooseneck Coffee Co.

Since that time, their business has blossomed, allowing them to roast coffee for several shops in the Metro Detroit area. They are now on their third production roaster and have a small roastery in Plymouth. They continue to sell their beans and drinks at the farmers market on Saturdays during the market season.

As a Canton High School Teacher for over 17 years, education continues to be a passion of Noah's. Teaching PPL's Coffee 101 at Schoolcraft College has allowed him to share his passion for teaching, as well as his knowledge of coffee. Noah describes coffee as both a very simple and very complex drink.

Outside the classroom and his business, Noah lives in Plymouth and loves spending time with his family. He also plays the drums, a little guitar, and enjoys hosting a book club with close friends.
