 - iii. The community college supports entrepreneurship through a small business assistance center or other training or consulting activities targeted toward small businesses.
 - a. The Business Development Center (BDC) serves area businesses through the APEX Accelerator, the Michigan Small Business Development Center (SBDC), and Workforce Training Solutions (WTS).
 - b. The BDC delivers small business and government contracting workshops throughout the year.
 - c. The BDC has been a leader in developing several training courses, which have been adopted by the Michigan Small Business Development Center (SBDC) network. These courses include: Launching Your New Business, Business Legal Issues, Putting Social Media to Work for Your Business, and Small Business Leadership.
 - d. The SBDC is a statewide business assistance program that provides one-on-one counseling, training, and research for entrepreneurs who wish to launch or grow their Michigan small business.
 - e. APEX Accelerator is also one of Schoolcraft College's most requested services. For companies interested in securing government contracts, APEX offers one-on-one counseling and provides an opportunity to address specific client issues; for example: bid review/preparation assistance, subcontracting opportunities, marketing strategies, troubleshooting, and guidance tailored to client-specific needs. This service is free of charge.

- iv. The community college supports technological advancement through industry partnerships, incubation activities, or operation of a Michigan technical education center or other advanced technology center.
 - a. The College opened a new Manufacturing and Engineering Center in 2020 devoted to training students and industry employees in areas including machining, welding, metallurgy, computer-aided design, electronics, engineering, robotics, and mechatronics.
 - b. The College has partnered with several colleges and the robot manufacturer, FANUC, to secure a U.S. Department of Labor grant to provide training in automation and robotics.
 - c. The College is a Certified Training Center for FANUC robots.
 - d. Schoolcraft College is an American Welding Society Accredited Test Facility, providing third-party welding accreditation for students and local companies.
 - e. Schoolcraft College is a Smart Automation Certification Alliance (SACA) Certified Training Center, providing third-party certification for Industry 4.0 credentials.
 - f. The College partners with the American Culinary Federation (ACF) to provide testing for ACF certification of chefs. The College has been the host site for the exclusive ACF Certified Master Chef exam for the past several years.

- v. The community college has active partnerships with local or regional workforce and economic development agencies.
 - a. Schoolcraft College has active partnerships with the following:
 - i. Workforce Intelligence Network (WIN) for Southeast Michigan - WIN is a comprehensive and cohesive workforce development system comprised of local community colleges and Michigan Works! agencies to provide employers with the best workforce and to develop the talent of the region. One of our administrators is a member of WIN's Board. We are collaborating with WIN on several workforce development grants aimed at enhancing training opportunities for southeast Michigan residents. Examples include:
 - 1. US DOL H-1B One Workforce Grant: Building an Industry Infinity Supply Chain (OWII)

- ii. The community college hosts, sponsors, or participates in enrichment programs for area K-12 students, such as college days, summer or after-school programming, or science Olympiad.
 - a. The teacher recertification classes offered through Personal and Professional Learning (PPL) allow teachers to complete classes needed for the State Continuing Education Clock Hours (SCECH) to maintain their certifications.

- b. PPL runs a vibrant Kids on Campus (KOC) program for students ranging from preschool through grade 12; programs expose students to the arts, science, manufacturing, culinary arts, and other campus programs. More than 2,500 K-12 students routinely participate in this program. In addition, middle and high school students have participated in summer academic skills classes designed to support, enhance, and stimulate their reading, writing, math, science, and study skills.
 - c. The College hosts an annual Middle School Night to introduce the idea of college and various career options to middle school students and their parents.
 - d. The College hosts science events such as Science Olympiad, Girls Who Code, Manufacturing Day, and Girls in STEM to excite upper elementary and middle school students about STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics).
 - e. Schoolcraft College partners with numerous local companies and government agencies to host and participate in National Manufacturing Day, Touch-A-Job, Young Inventors, Girls in STEM, and Manufacturing and Engineering Technology Open Houses and Career Exploration days.
 - f. The college hosted a demonstration of the Scanning Electron Microscope (SEM) for students from Thurston High School (Livonia Public Schools) AP Chemistry courses.
 - g. The department of Music hosts the Piano Academy and associated competitions to train and showcase youth musicians in piano. Children as young as 7 through 18-years-old participate in private lessons on Schoolcraft College's main campus.
 - h. The Accounting faculty, the Foundation, and the Admissions team partner to host the Accounting Leadership Conference each spring. High schools from throughout Metro-Detroit send students for a day highlighting opportunities within the accounting profession.
- iii. The community college provides, supports, or participates in programming to promote successful transitions to college for traditional age students, including grant programs such as talent search, upward bound, or other activities to promote college readiness in area high schools and community centers.
- a. The Admissions team hosts "High School Counselor Workshop" each fall, inviting approximately 75 metro-Detroit counselors to campus for a day of professional development and exposure to Schoolcraft offerings. The goal is to work together to provide students with what they need to make a successful transition to high school.
 - b. Several workshops are offered for mathematics support throughout the year via online webinars, which are accessible to the greater community by visiting the Schoolcraft College website.
 - c. Math JumpStart is offered before each semester and available to any prospective math students to strengthen math skills.
 - d. Writing JumpStart is offered at the Public Safety Training Center before each semester to hone students' technical writing skills.
 - e. The Scholars Honors Program provides outreach and promotional materials to local high school students and their parents so they can learn about the program and get an early start on the application process.
 - f. Our Step Ahead program offered remote student success seminars specific to 9-12 grade students. Seminars focused on being successful in college classes, time management, study strategies, writing support, and math specific study strategies.
 - g. With support from a grant facilitated by the Michigan Community College Association, the college facilitated a 2-week college prep summer bridge program for new and returning students, which became an extension of the 9-12 grade Step Ahead with Schoolcraft College program. Students who participated in the summer bridge received academic support and scholarships for a College and Beyond course, a Chromebook, supplies, and a transportation stipend.

- h. The Financial Aid office provides off campus FASFA Completion workshops for Livonia, Plymouth Canton, Garden City, and Riverview School Districts.
 - i. The Admissions office regularly offers remote information sessions about becoming a Dual Enrolled student for parents/guardians and students.
 - j. The college utilizes Campus Esp, a parent/supporter portal, to engage and inform parents, guardians, and supporters of both prospective and enrolled students about resources, college events, and important dates related to academic support, well-being, extracurricular activities, and finances. A newsletter and portal are used to share relevant information and updates.
 - k. The college offers SC EDGE (Earn a Degree Graduate Early) Early Middle College for high school students in three high schools: Airport High School, Northville High School, and Plymouth Canton High Schools. Participating high school students transition to higher education in a cohort and facilitated model and can earn a certificate or associate degree while attending high school.
- iv. The community college provides, supports, or participates in programming to promote successful transitions to college for new or reentering adult students, such as adult basic education, GED preparation and testing, or recruiting, advising, disability support, or orientation activities specific to adults.
- a. Personal and Professional Learning provides non-credit courses for remediation in math and English, test preparation, ESL (English as a Second Language), and GED attainment. Schoolcraft College is also a member of the Region 16 Consortium that aligns Adult Basic Education programs in local school districts with college-readiness requirements to ensure smooth and successful transition to college for reentering adults.
 - b. Personal and Professional Learning provides reasonably priced training in several workplace skills: basic to advanced computer/technology training, teacher recertification, and career training (Project Management, Event Planner, Photography Certificate, Digital Sculpting, and online courses for Administrative Assistant, accounting, and other career areas).
 - c. Personal and Professional Learning provides free information sessions for many of the career programs they offer, including Digital Sculpting with Autodesk Alias, Project Management, and Enrolled Agents to help the community learn about these career pathways.
 - d. The Admissions office regularly offers remote information sessions about the Michigan Reconnect grant and applying to Schoolcraft College.
 - e. The Admissions and Marketing Office coordinated a week of activities during Michigan Reconnect Week to address topics such as financial aid, student success, admissions, and adult student experience.
- v. The community college has active partnerships with regional four-year colleges and universities to promote successful transfer, such as articulation, 2+2, or reverse transfer agreements or operation of a university center.
- a. Schoolcraft College has dozens of signed articulations agreements with over 15 public and private colleges. These articulations serve as a bridge between the - associate and bachelor's degree and allow Schoolcraft College students to take additional credit hours beyond the associate degree before transferring out to a college or university. Participating universities include Wayne State University, Eastern Michigan University, Davenport University, Ferris State University, Central Michigan University, Madonna University, Oakland University, University of Michigan-Dearborn, University of Michigan-Flint, Northwood University, and University of Detroit Mercy.

- b. Schoolcraft is a participating member in the Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA) with other community colleges and university partners. Students are provided a selection of transferable courses under the English, Humanities, Mathematics, Natural Sciences, and Social Sciences disciplines.
 - c. The College is an active participant in the MiTransfer Pathways initiative where the representatives from 28 community colleges and public and private four-year institutions are collaborating to make transfer paths clearer for Michigan transfer students with statewide articulations in the following disciplines: Psychology, Business, Criminal Justice, Biology, Communication, Social Work, Mechanical Engineering, Computer Science and Information Systems, Art, English, and Public Health and Exercise Science. To date, Schoolcraft College has signed ten out of twelve joint articulation agreements as a result of this partnership. In addition, the Michigan Transfer Network (MTN), a public database that warehouses how courses transfer between colleges, has been drastically upgraded.
 - d. As an addendum to MiTransfer Pathways, Schoolcraft College is participating in a Community College Research Center (CCRC)-sponsored research project about similar pathways for Humanities disciplines like English, Communications, Theater, and Art with the intent to develop articulation agreements with 4-year institutions across Michigan.
 - e. The Center for Experiential Learning (CEL) is an access hub for existing signature programs like the Schoolcraft Scholars Honors Program, Service Learning & Civic Engagement, STEAMz, International Institute, and Social Impact Fellowships. The CEL was funded through a $370,000 grant from the Mellon Foundation the University of Michigan Transfer Bridges to Humanities program. The aim is to offer students easier access to high-impact learning opportunities that will make them competitive transfer students and engaged global citizens. Students are exposed to fellowship opportunities, campus visits, application workshops, scholarships, and impactful programs like GLACE (Great Lakes Arts, Cultures, and Environments), Culture Corps, the Michigan Community College Summer Research Fellowship Program (UROP), optiMize, moMentum, and the Detroit River Story Lab through our partnership with the Literature, Science, and the Arts at the University of Michigan.
 - f. The Schoolcraft Scholars Honors Program has articulation agreements in place with Eastern Michigan University and Wayne State University, to provide seamless honors program progression for transferring Schoolcraft students. The Honors Program is currently in the process of developing an articulation agreement with Oakland University.
